

Background

Jared Novick is an entrepreneur, operational executive, investor and board member. Jared has founded, served as CEO, scaled, raised capital and sold companies across aerospace and cyber industries. Jared currently serves on commercial and not-for-profit boards, as well as advises startups for venture capital.

My experiences are broad and deep across business, technical and government domains. My educational background is in Physics and Mathematics. If you're interested to learn more, I'm happy to share.

Why Do I Want to be on the Board?

I want to protect the investments we have made in our homes and neighborhoods. In my 6 months of serving on the board as Secretary and Treasurer, I learned two hard facts: 1) Meritage did NOT set us up for success and 2) we have deep legal & financial issues that need to be resolved effectively.

I want to help build sustainable processes on the board to preserve the valuable community we all wanted when we bought homes in the Ellingsworth Community.